Saint-Ouen, France, 08 March 2022

Inetum recruits Best Supporter of Paris Saint-Germain Handball for Nantes match on 13 March

Inetum, Top Sponsor of Paris Saint-Germain Handball and Sponsor of the match against HBC Nantes, will be recruiting 7,000 people this year of which 3,000 in France. Right now, they're looking to fill a special vacancy – that of best supporter of the red-and-blue team. This singular 'job offer' will be on the inetum.com website until 8 March at midnight. Following a rigorous selection process by lucky draw, the successful applicant's duties will be to cheer on the Parisian players and enjoy a unique experience on the edge of the court with Daniel Narcisse.

"With an advanced qualification in clapping from the Paris Saint-Germain Handball school of fans – or as a recently converted sports fan – you have notions of team sport and initial experience as a live supporter in stadiums or from home. A keen interest in digital technology or expertise in Java/Angular analyses and development will be a real plus." The tone is set for this initiative launched by Inetum, European leader in IT services and solutions and Top Sponsor of Paris Saint-Germain Handball since 2012, to promote its partnership with the Parisian sports club as well as the 3,000 vacancies that it will be filling this year. Operating from 45 locations throughout France to be as close as possible to its clients, the company is specifically recruiting 1,200 in the greater Paris area and 400 in the region of Nantes.

A special operation for an ambitious recruitment plan

After two peculiar sporting seasons due to health restrictions and several postponed and cancelled matches, Inetum wants to get the ball rolling again by focusing on recruitment and offering the job of Best Supporter of Paris Saint-Germain Handball. This special operation is a nod to the numerous job offers currently available at Inetum for developers, engineers, consultants, and digital professionals in general. The Group, which employs 27,000 people in 26 countries, is looking to fill 7,000 vacancies worldwide, and intends to recruit nearly 3,000 in France in 2022. An ambitious recruitment plan to meet its own growth objectives as well as market needs.

Candidates for the position of Best Supporter for the match on 13 March – for which the offer was snuck in between other job ads on the inetum.com website – must submit their applications on line to participate in the lucky draw. The person chosen as #BestSupporter will win two VIP tickets for one of the top matches of the season. They will be received in the Inetum Executive Lounge and enjoy a unique experience alongside Paris Saint-Germain Handball legend Daniel Narcisse, one of the biggest championship winners in French sports. Inetum – a company that promotes geographical mobility for its employees – will also pay for its Best Supporter's travel and accommodation if the latter lives outside the Ile-de-France region.

"Inetum is a special partner that always comes up with original ideas like when they organised the Digital Sport XP event last April, amidst the lockdown. We are thrilled to be able to support this initiative that puts the spotlight on Inetum as one of the companies that recruits the most in France, and that will give one of the club's supporters the chance to experience this top match in the Championship in privileged conditions," says Daniel Narcisse, Business Developer Manager of Paris Saint-Germain Handball.

According to Bruno da Sola, Inetum Executive VP and Head of Group Human Resources, "With 45 locations countrywide, Inetum is based locally throughout France. More than half of our 3,000 recruitments this year will be in the Paris and Nantes regions. This relationship of proximity with our clients and employees is also illustrated by the joint values we share with Paris Saint-Germain Handball. Special operations like this one allow us throughout the year to highlight the career opportunities that Inetum offers, but also the values and ambitions that we share with the club."

Check out all the job offers at Inetum and submit your application for the #BestSupporter #Sponsoring add until 8 March at midnight.
