Céline Mayousse appointed as Head of the Inetum FabLab in Nantes

Inetum, the European leader in digital services and solutions, is proud to announce the appointment of Céline Mayousse as Head of its FabLab in Nantes. With her experience and expertise in technological innovation, Céline Mayousse will be heading the activities of one of the Group's seven innovation centres.

Céline Mayousse obtained a PhD from the CEA Centre in Grenoble and has extensive experience in research and innovation in industry and the digital sector. Before joining Inetum, she held key positions in various IT services companies where she contributed to the development of numerous innovative projects.

As the new head of the FabLab in Nantes, Céline Mayousse's task will be to supervise and coordinate the activities of Inetum's regional innovation centre based in Nantes by putting the accent on fundamental research of excellence. She will also be tasked with strengthening partnerships with local and international players to promote the innovation ecosystem of Nantes and to position Inetum as a pivotal player in this field. As part of the Group's international network of seven FabLabs, Céline Mayousse will lead the local team of innovation experts in the research and development of innovative solutions that will be used by the Inetum Group's innovation centres.

Inetum, committed to an inclusive, innovative digital industry

"We are thrilled to welcome Céline Mayousse to our team," says Jean-François Gaudy, Chief Innovation & Digital Officer of the Inetum Group. "Her experience and strategic vision are valuable assets that will contribute to developing the activities of our FabLab, supporting our clients' innovative projects in the Western region of France, and reinforcing our expertise to serve our entire FabLab network."

Bruno Da Sola, Chief People Officer of the Inetum Group, explains, "At Inetum, we firmly believe that diversity is an essential driver of innovation and performance. We are therefore glad to have Céline Mayousse appointed as Head of one of our FabLabs, which affirms our ambition to promote female talent and pursue our goal to integrate experts with diverse profiles in all our business lines to reach our target of a 50% female staff. Her expertise and track record are huge assets that will actively contribute to shaping the future of digital technology with our Innovation teams in Nantes."

And in Céline Mayousse's own words, "I am delighted to join Inetum's Innovation teams and to bring my expertise to this leader in the sector. It's a wonderful opportunity to work with passionate and talented people and to contribute to the creation of innovative digital solutions that will shape the future of our industry."

About Céline Mayousse

Céline Mayousse is Head of Innovation at the Inetum FabLab in Nantes. She joined the Inetum Group in 2023 thanks to her expertise in R&D and innovation built up over more than 10 years. She holds a PhD in Material Sciences from the CEA Centre in Grenoble, where she specialised in the development of innovative solutions in energy, healthcare, information, and communication.
